To the FREE BURGESSES of Newcaſtle upon Tyne.

GENTLEMEN,

THE very great Succeſs which has attended the Canvas before my Arrival here this Evening from London, demands my warmeſt and moſt ſincere Acknowledgements and Thanks. I intend as ſoon as poſſible to pay my perſonal Reſpects to you, and to ſollicit the Honour of your Countenance and Support on the Day of Election; and if from the Shortneſs of the Time any Omiſſion ſhould happen, I truſt it will be imputed to its true Cauſe, and not to any Want of Reſpect.

I am,

GENTLEMEN,

With the greateſt Reſpect,

Your moſt obedient

And faithful humble Servant,

NEWCASTLE,
Feb. 20*th*, 1777.

JOHN TREVELYAN.

P. S. The Election will begin on Thurſday Morning next, the 27th Inſtant.
